DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 8/22/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. By Applicant's own admission, Savage discloses an implant for draining chamber water from the anterior chamber of the eye into one or more episcleral veins and the natural drainage from the Schlemm's canal is directed towards the episcleral vein. Therefore, the implant of Savage provide for draining chamber water from the eye chamber into the one or more episcleral veins. Applicant argues Savage does not disclose a wire with a distal tip. Savage discloses element 34 can be trimmed to ensure proper insertion of the tube, which as broadly as claimed provides a guide with a distal tip (col. 12, lines 55-57).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Savage USPN 6699211. Savage discloses an implant for draining chamber water from the front eye chamber into one or more episcleral veins consisting of one tubular part 34, a guide wire ( Figures 4; col. 10, lines 50-57). The limitations directed to piercing the vein and withdrawing the wire are directed to an intended use of the article. "It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations." Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987). The article consists of several tubular parts 36, a plate 40, having diameters in the claimed range (col. 5, lines 45-58; col. 12, lines 36-52); and one or more eyelets 42. The article is made of inert silicone materials (col. 12, lines 64-67).

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
